Policies for the Business Leadership Building Trading Room
January 2019

• Absolutely no food or drinks of any kind are allowed in the Trading Room at any time.

• Any person in the room must be using the Bloomberg Terminals. The room is not to be used as a lounge or a meeting room of any type.

• Representatives of the Student Investment Group, doctoral students and other students engaged in financial research will be allowed access to the Trading Room at specific times with permission of the chair of the Department of Finance, Insurance, Real Estate and Law.

• Any student who is allowed access to the room assumes complete responsibility for each person he or she allows in the room. Access privileges are subject to revocation for failure to adhere to these policies.

• Except for the students as noted above, students are allowed in the room only when the Bloomberg Lab Assistants are present.

• The room is restricted to use for financial research. It is not to be used for any other purpose.

• Use of the room is scheduled only by the Department of Finance, Insurance, Real Estate and Law which is responsible for security in the room.

• Faculty and doctoral students in the College of Business will be allowed access to the Trading Room for research purposes only during hours when the building is open.

• No entity within or outside the University other than the Department of Finance, Insurance, Real Estate and Law can schedule use of the room.

• Faculty from areas outside the University can be granted permission to use the room for research purposes when the room is open and staffed by Bloomberg Lab Assistants.